Descripción : One of our volunteers was walking our doggies as usual and she saw this poor galgo in the canal, struggling to get out, which is impossible for any animal because the walls are so steep. It was a matter of minutes that he would drown because he was already sinking.

She tied up the dogs she was walking to a tree and with the help of a young guy that luckily passed by that moment, they could take the dog out of the water. Poor Lucio was exhausted and suffered hypothermia

He is very young dog, still a little scared but very docile and good on the leash.

Lucio fue rescatado por una de nuestras voluntarias que le vio ahogándose en un canal. Cuando consiguió sacarlo con la ayuda de un chico que pasaba, el pobre estaba exhausto e hipotérmico. Es un perro muy joven, y aunque está algo asustado, es muy dócil y anda bien con correa.
